

Enjoying the Trails

1. The Franks Point of View (FPOV) wilderness trails have been preserved for the enjoyment of FPOV campers as a natural environment akin to the nearby Talladega National Forest. As such, they are mostly rugged trails with rocks, stumps, exposed roots, holes, and areas of considerable incline/decline. Conditions can be especially slick and challenging in wet conditions. Hiking shoes, walking sticks and great care are highly recommended – enjoy yourself, but watch your step!
2. Trail sections are marked with painted blazes that are keyed to the colors on this trail map. Trail colors do not reflect the difficulty of the section, all of which include a mix of both level and steep terrain.
3. Use of the wilderness trails is at your own risk, and the waiver signed upon checking in for camping applies to any injury sustained on the trails.
4. Trails are for the use and enjoyment of those camping at FPOV; use by others requires prior approval of the FPOV owners. Children under 14 must be accompanied by an adult.
5. The trails are designed primarily for hikers, and hikers have the right of way. Motorized vehicles and bicycles require prior approval of the owners, and are subject to special trail rules, including speed limits and the required use of helmets.
6. Enjoy and explore the many rock ruins found along the trails; however, climbing on or moving these ruins is not permitted – please help preserve them for the enjoyment of future generations.
